

Abandonment

Abandonment you see... freedom is different... and abandonment is different... these are two things one must understand. Say there is a kite in your hand... alright... then it is in your hand... but if you allow the kite to fly wherever it likes... it is abandonment. So the freedom is that in which you can manage to manoeuvre it... to man it... to take it the way you like... that's freedom... then you are free... but if you... baselessly you are roaming about... then this is abandonment... for which there is always a punishment (791202.3); All our ideas of freedom are to be bound by Mariadas... you have to keep your Mariadas... if the freedom has no Mariadas, it is abandonment... it is a nonsense... it is not going to help (820402)
